New Guidance Helps Schools Support Students with Disabilities and Avoid Discriminatory Use of Discipline

Una nueva orientación ayuda a las escuelas apoyar a los estudiantes con discapacidades y evitar el uso discriminatorio de la disciplina

New guidance has been released from the federal Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights (OCR) and Office of Special Education and Rehabilitative Services (OSERS) that helps public schools fulfill their responsibilities to meet the needs of students with disabilities and avoid the discriminatory use of student discipline.

As stated by U.S. Secretary of Education Miguel Cardona, "Too often, students with disabilities face harsh and exclusionary disciplinary action at school. The guidance we’re releasing today will help ensure that students with disabilities are treated fairly and have access to supports and services to meet their needs – including their disability-based behavior.”
It’s hard to learn when removed from the classroom
Students with disabilities include students served under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and students served only under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Section 504).

* Glossary of Key Terms
Exclusionary discipline is overused
Examples of School/Early Childhood Program Discipline

- In-School or Out-of-School Suspension
- Expulsion
- Removal to Interim Alternative Educational Setting
- “Shortened day” or Informal Removal
Generally, a removal is considered a disciplinary removal unless:

- child is afforded the opportunity to continue to appropriately participate in the general curriculum, and
- child continues to receive the services specified on the child’s IEP, and
- child continues to participate with nondisabled children to the extent they would have in their current placement.
Change in Placement

- If the removal is for more than 10 consecutive school days, or
- The child has been subjected to a series of removals that constitute a pattern
  - Series of removals total more than 10 school days in a school year
  - Child’s behavior is substantially similar to the child’s behavior in previous incidents that resulted in the series of removals
  - Additional factors, such as: length of each removal, total amount of time the child has been removed, proximity of the removals to one another

- Could include exclusions that take place outside of IDEA’s discipline provisions which occur because of a child’s behavior: “informal removals”
Informal Removals Matter
Informal Removal: Definition

Action taken by school personnel in response to a child’s behavior that excludes the child for part or all of the school day, or even an indefinite period of time.

These exclusions are considered informal because the school removes the child with a disability from class or school without invoking IDEA’s disciplinary procedures.

Informal removals are subject to IDEA’s requirements to the same extent as disciplinary removals by school personnel using the school’s disciplinary procedures.

Informal removals include administratively shortened school days when a child’s school day is reduced by school personnel, outside of the IEP Team and placement process, in response to the child’s behavior. (C-1, C-6, glossary)
Informal Removal and Change in Placement

- In general, the use of informal removals to address a child’s behavior, if implemented repeatedly throughout the school year, could constitute a disciplinary removal from the current placement.
  - Therefore, the discipline procedures would generally apply unless all three of the following factors are met:
    - the child is afforded the opportunity to continue to appropriately participate in the general curriculum;
    - the child continues to receive the services specified on the child’s IEP; and
    - the child continues to participate with nondisabled children to the extent they would have in their current placement. (C-6)

- The practice of shortening a child’s school day as a disciplinary measure could be considered a denial of FAPE if the child's IEP Team does not also consider other options such as additional or different services and supports that could enable a child to remain in school for the full school day. (C-6)
Behavior is a form of communication
Manifestation Determination Review

What is an MDR?

When Must MDR be Conducted?

When must a child’s behavior be determined to be a manifestation of their disability?

What actions must the IEP Team take if they determine the behavior IS a manifestation?

What actions must the IEP Team take if they determine the behavior is NOT a manifestation?
A manifestation determination review is a review conducted by the LEA, the parent, and relevant members of the IEP Team (as determined by the parent and the LEA) of all relevant information in the child’s file to determine if the conduct that gave rise to the violation of the school’s code of student conduct was:

- caused by, or had a direct and substantial relationship to, the child’s disability, or
- if the behavior in question was the direct result of the LEA’s failure to implement the IEP. (F-1)
When an MDR Must Be Conducted

When must a manifestation determination review be conducted?

- When school personnel propose to change the placement of a child with a disability due to a violation of the school’s code of conduct. (F-2)

- When a change in placement occurs (C-1):
  - Removal is more than 10 consecutive school days; or
  - Series of removals that constitutes a pattern
    - Total more than 10 school days in a year;
    - Child’s behavior is substantially similar to previous incidents; and
    - Additional factors: length of removal, total time removed, proximity of removals to one another.

- Could include exclusions that occur outside of IDEA’s discipline requirements.

IDEA does not prohibit IEP Teams from conducting an MDR during other situations to assist in making decisions about services and supports.
Actions IEP Team Must Take

If the conduct in question is determined to be a manifestation of the child’s disability, the LEA must (F-4):

- Conduct an FBA, unless one had been already conducted, AND implement a BIP
- If a BIP exists, review and modify as necessary
- Return child to placement from which child was removed, unless LEA and parent agree to change of placement
- LEA must take immediate steps to remedy deficiencies in the IEP, if the behavior was the direct result of the LEA’s failure to implement the IEP
- If removal is for weapons, drugs, or serious bodily injury, child may remain in IAES for not more than 45 school days
Actions School Officials May Take

If the conduct in question is determined not to be a manifestation of the child’s disability (F-5):

- For changes in placement that exceed 10 consecutive school days, school personnel may apply the relevant disciplinary procedures to children with disabilities in the same manner and for the same duration as the procedures would be applied to children without disabilities.
  - Child must continue to receive educational services as provided in 34 C.F.R. §300.101(a)
  - Child must receive, as appropriate, an FBA and behavioral intervention services and modifications
If IEP Team Cannot Reach Consensus

▶ If the parent of a child with a disability, the LEA, and the relevant members of the child’s IEP Team cannot reach consensus on whether the child’s behavior was a manifestation of the disability:

• The LEA must make the determination and provide the parent with prior written notice under 34 C.F.R. §300.503.

• Parent has the right to exercise their procedural safeguards, including requesting mediation, an expedited due process hearing, and filing a State complaint.
It’s hard to learn when removed from the classroom
Services During Removals

When removals total 10 school days or less, in a school year (H-1):

- LEA is required to provide services during periods of removal to a child with a disability who has been removed from their current placement for 10 school days or less in that school year, only if it provides services to a child without disabilities who is similarly removed. 34 C.F.R. §300.530(d)(3)

- LEAs are encouraged to provide services during short-term removals, though not required
When removals total more than 10 school days in a school year:

- Beginning on the 11th cumulative day and during any subsequent days of removal, the LEA must provide services, as determined by the school staff. (H-2)
  - Services may not always be required during brief periods of removal. School staff determine how to best address the child’s needs in these circumstances.
  - If removal, regardless of length, is a change of placement, the child’s IEP Team determines appropriate services to enable the child to continue to participate in the general education curriculum, although in another setting, and to progress toward meeting the goals set out in the child’s IEP.
  - The child must receive, as appropriate, an FBA and behavioral intervention services and modifications that are designed to address the behavior so that it does not recur.
Behavior is a form of communication
Addressing Behavior

- IEP Teams must recognize and support the behavioral needs of children with disabilities through the evaluation, reevaluation, IEP development/implementation process. (A-2)

- To ensure FAPE to the child, IEP Teams must consider the use of positive behavioral interventions and supports, and other strategies if a child’s behavior impedes their learning or that of others.

  - If an IEP Team does not consider behavioral supports for a child with a disability, it may result in a denial of FAPE and/or the overreliance on and misuse of exclusionary discipline in response to a child’s behavior.
Addressing Behavior

- If a child’s IEP does not include positive behavioral interventions and supports, and other strategies, the IEP Team should convene and consider revising the IEP or conducting assessments, if additional data is needed. (A-3, A-4, A-5)

- IEP Teams should revise a child’s IEP if existing behavioral supports are not effective in addressing a child’s behavior needs. (A-6)
Description of an FBA:

- An FBA is used to understand the function and purpose of a child’s specific, interfering behavior and factors that contribute to the behavior’s occurrence and non-occurrence for the purpose of developing effective positive behavioral interventions, supports, and other strategies to mitigate or eliminate the interfering behavior. (Glossary)

- Clearly define the interfering behavior
- Collect indirect, direct data on occurrence/non-occurrence of behavior
- Analyze data to determine trends and develop a hypothesis of the function of the behavior
- Lead to the development or revision of BIP (monitored, evaluated, adjusted, as needed)
• Must be conducted after a manifestation determination review concludes the child’s behavior that resulted in the disciplinary change of placement was a manifestation of the child’s disability. (G-1)

• May be conducted in other circumstances as well.
Behavioral intervention plans (BIP) take an individualized, proactive, and preventative approach to addressing the interfering behavior.

BIPs must be implemented when the child’s conduct that resulted in a change of placement was a manifestation of the child’s disability because the conduct was caused by, or had a direct and substantial relationship to, their disability, or the conduct was a direct result of the LEA’s failure to implement the IEP.

If the LEA already conducted an FBA and developed a BIP before the change of placement occurred, the IEP Team must review the BIP and modify it as necessary to address the behavior. (G-1)
Discipline disparities are longstanding & persisting
State Oversight & Reporting Responsibilities

▶ Important role of SEA and LEA oversight

▶ General supervisory responsibilities

• SEAs should play particular attention to LEA and Statewide discipline data and discipline policies, procedures, and practices when exercising their general supervisory responsibilities. (L-1)

• Applies to all publicly placed children with disabilities, including those placed in a program operated by another public agency (e.g. Head Start) (L-3)
General Supervision

Significant Discrepancies in Long-Term Suspensions, Expulsions

Significant Disproportionality
We can and must do better
Four Key Areas

- Using an Evidence-Based Approach to Support and Respond to Student Needs
- Investing in School and Educator Capacity
- Federal Funding Available to Address Disparities in, and to Reduce the Use of, Exclusionary Discipline
- Federal Resources to Support State and Local Efforts to Address Disparities in, and Reduce the Use of, Exclusionary Discipline
Policy-to-Practice

6 Strategies to Address Discipline Practices

• Addressing Discipline Disparities

• Creating a Positive Predicable Environment

• Implementing Evidence-Based Approaches to Respond to Student Needs

• Personnel Preparation to Address Social, Emotional, Behavioral Needs

• Professional Development to Address Social, Emotional, Behavioral Needs

• Reducing Exclusionary Practices
