A Checklist for IEP Teams: Considering Limited English Proficiency

This information is adapted from the Nebraska Department of Education’s Nebraska IEP Technical Assistance Guide (1998, September). That document is no longer available online, but an updated version is at: www.education.ne.gov/SPED/technicalassist/IEP%20DOCUMENT.pdf

Developing the IEP

In developing an IEP for a student with limited English proficiency, the IEP Team must consider the student’s level of English language proficiency. It’s important to know that second language conversational skills are acquired in one to two years, but academic language proficiency is acquired over a longer period of time of five to seven years. Therefore, the IEP Team must consider the student’s level of English language proficiency to support and strengthen implementation of the IEP goals.

The IEP Team may find it helpful to ask the following framing questions:

1. Has the dominant language in the home been considered?
   - ☐ Yes  ☐ No

2. Has the child’s primary language of communication been considered?
   - ☐ Yes  ☐ No

3. Have the cultural values and beliefs of the parents been considered in planning for the child’s education?
   - ☐ Yes  ☐ No

4. Does the instructional plan incorporate a variety of instructional strategies?
   - ☐ Yes  ☐ No

5. Is there a member of the IEP Team who has expertise regarding the student and understands how language develops as well as strategies that can be used when educating a student with English as a second language?
   - ☐ Yes  ☐ No

6. Does the IEP Team have access to assessment data that is accurate and unbiased?
   - ☐ Yes  ☐ No

7. Does the assessment information use a variety of methods and environments?
   - ☐ Yes  ☐ No

8. Does the “present levels” statement in the IEP address both how the student uses his or her native language and how the student uses English?
   - ☐ Yes  ☐ No

9. Do progress monitoring activities measure progress toward the mastery of English?
   - ☐ Yes  ☐ No

10. Do the goals delineate in which language they will be addressed and who will be responsible for measuring the outcomes?
    - ☐ Yes  ☐ No
