

American Indian/Alaska Native Vocational Rehabilitation Centers

September 2020

A publication of the Center for Parent Information and Resources

Compiled by Judy Wiley for CPIR

Under the Vocational Rehabilitation Services Projects for American Indians with Disabilities, tribal governments can develop or increase their capacity to provide a program of vocational rehabilitation (VR) services, in a culturally relevant manner, to American Indians with disabilities residing on or near Federal or state reservations. VR services are intended to enable these individuals to prepare for and engage in gainful employment. Program services are provided under an individualized plan for employment and may include native healing services.
